

Transactional Energy Practice

fieldfisher

Our team of established experts can boast of a full cycle of energy expertise and collaborates with investors, financial institutions and developers on all aspects of conventional power and low-carbon energy projects, bringing our detailed regulatory and industrial know-how to ensure the delivery of successful projects.

We advise on all types of energy transactions in the Belgian market, assisting some of the largest energy market players, project developers and sponsors, as well as financial institutions in a variety of transactions.

Thanks to this experience, we understand parties' behaviours in a transaction and can often anticipate issues before they arise.

Clients commend the "very customer-orientated and committed lawyers," for their "structured and clear communication" as well as their ability "to provide the right expertise and legal advice at the right moment in a transaction."

Another client praises the lawyers' "excellent knowledge and understanding of the different legal environments involved, across different fields of expertise."

Chambers Europe, 2020

About Fieldfisher

We are an exciting, forward thinking organisation with key sector specialisms in technology, financial services, energy and natural resources and life sciences.

In 2019, Fieldfisher was awarded a 5 star ranking for client service by The Legal 500. It was one of only five firms in the top 25 list of UK-headquartered firms to receive 5 stars based on client feedback.

Our European network of offices supports an international client base alongside our Silicon Valley and China colleagues. We also work in a number of other jurisdictions through dedicated country teams.

Among our clients we count social media sites and high street coffee chains as well as pharmaceutical, life sciences and medical devices companies, energy suppliers, banks and technology leaders.

We have over 1,700 people spread across 25 locations, all providing highly commercial advice based on an in-depth understanding of our clients' needs. Our clients trust us with work that can have a huge impact on their business or organisation.

We are a law firm built around people with all their diversity and we strike a healthy balance between legal excellence and a down-to-earth practical approach to our clients' needs.
